

Pizza Faces

Purple class have been learning about body parts. What better way to learn about our facial features than making pizza faces! The children looked at their own faces in mirrors, counted eyes and noses and then chose their ingredients. They took their pizza faces home and we made an extra one to eat at class snack time. Yummy!

Music sessions for Red and Aqua Classes

On Monday we welcomed Ann Wright from Lincolnshire County Council. Ann will be visiting Red and Aqua classes every Monday for the next six weeks. Both classes enjoyed learning to play the drums by following instructions and checking a beat.

New Build

Next week's newsletter will contain a detailed update of the operational procedures required to facilitate our expansion. Please be aware that there will be no parking on site for staff, parents or visitors for the duration of the project.

Macmillan Party Boxes

Indigo pupils have been working hard this half term to create party boxes for each class to enjoy, in doing so raising money for Macmillan. Party boxes are being delivered to each class. This instead of the usual Macmillan coffee morning. Each hand decorated box will contain measured ingredients for a simple recipe, tasty treats, activities and decorations. Indigo pupils have created order forms, written letters to classes and parents. Indigo would really appreciate any monetary donations next week, which will be given to Macmillan. Pictured are Katie and Anna mixing ingredients in readiness for their cake baking.

Gold Class - Baby Shower for Amy

Last week we said goodbye to Amy as she departed for her maternity leave. This academic year, she has been supporting Gold class and last Friday we held a secret baby shower for her. The children helped decorate the classroom and we surprised Amy with gifts provided by staff from across the school. We enjoyed dancing and sharing some party food. Amy will certainly be missed and we wish her the best of luck with her new arrival. Congratulations Amy!
