Welcome

Welcome back! We hope everyone is feeling refreshed after the half-term break. It seems a few of us were unwell over the holiday, but we're glad to see everyone on the mend and ready for a fun and exciting new half term.

This term our focus is...

Curriculum

This half term, we're excited to continue developing our arts, crafts and construction theme. The pupils have been expanding their meal repertoire in the kitchen, and the much-anticipated taste tests after each cooking session remain a definite highlight! We've thoroughly enjoyed this unit so far and look forward to completing the remaining planned meals over the coming weeks.

Our arts and crafts planning stage is now complete, and the pupils have created some wonderfully unique design ideas. We can't wait to see these come to life. Later this half term, we will be holding a gallery event to showcase their finished pieces.

With our forest school sessions now finished, we will be completing the volunteering section of the Duke of Edinburgh award. Our class has been given the important task of promoting recycling within school, including educating peers and collecting and sorting recycling from classrooms.

Dance, swimming and cooking sessions will continue, and we are especially looking forward to sharing a 'special' Redwood dance performance in church at Easter.
